The Philosphy of the Allowance Card and how it works is very simple. A major credit card company RE: VISA, Mastercard, Discovery, Amex will be the support. Say John Doe has a card such as those stated above. He has a son + daughter in high school and wants to give them a monthly allowance but is afraid of just handing out money and where they are spending it. He has the card worry issue 2 allowance cards under his main account. He tells the card company to take $180 dollars a month and put it in his account and put $40 to each of the children allowance cards. They can only spend that $40 dollar no more if they choose to spend it quick or slower within the month. It is there choice the parent is disciplined not to give them anymore money until the next month and the kids are disciplined by the Allowance Card constants.
